

STORA

OUTSTANDING AND MOST SPACIOUS SINGLE STOREY HOME

Perhaps the most interesting of all the single storey homes in the range, the Stora is different to all others. Its three angled wings give it real architectural interest and its size allows free and unobstructed use of space. As with many houses in the range, the exterior finish blends timber panelling and render to give it greater interest, however these can be ordered to suit individual tastes. A real feature of this design is the corner windows at four points allowing wide angle views and allowing light into the home from all directions. The recessed front door enters a small hall, with an office to one side, which could double as a guest room or fifth bedroom. To the other side of the door, there is a WC and the hall opens to a substantial living room and open plan dining kitchen with a door to the garden. From here, there is a single door to the utility room, with another door to the garden, and a double door to the other main wing. Within this part of the house there are three further bedrooms, bathroom and a day room/sitting room with a further door to the garden. This room could optionally be partitioned to create a sixth bedroom. The small wing contains the master bedroom with cloakroom and en-suite bathroom.
